About WRS Charity Insurance

For more than four decades, WRS Insurance Brokers has been supporting a wide range of not-for-profit specialists for communities, churches, businesses and other third-sector organisations with their insurance needs.

WRS Insurance Brokers was established in 1966. We're a team of experienced, committed and ethical insurance professionals and proudly part of the Benefact Group, which is owned by one of the UK's leading grant-making charities, the Benefact Trust.

The Benefact Group are a diverse family of specialist financial services businesses that give all available profits to charity and good causes.

As a group, we have donated over £250 million since 2014. Giving our profits to good causes which has made the group the third-largest corporate donor in over a decade, according to Directory of Social Change's UK Guides to Company Giving 2017-26.

"I've had the privilege of working closely with numerous charitable organisations since 2007 and I am passionate about Charity Insurance.

We understand that it can feel like a minefield when looking for the right cover and this guide will help you with any questions you may have about protecting your organisation. Insurance for your charity provides financial security and peace of mind, allowing you to fulfil your mission knowing it is well shielded from potential risks and liabilities."

Insurance for your charity provides financial security and peace of mind, allowing you to fulfil your mission knowing it is well shielded from potential risks and liabilities.

Public Liability & Employers' Liability Insurance

Public Liability Insurance

Public Liability Insurance protects you against injury or damage claims brought against your charity by a third party. For instance, if you are hosting a fundraising event and someone accidentally trips and sustains an injury, they could file a claim against your charity.

In today's everchanging landscape, we recommend having a minimum of £5 million in Public Liability coverage. This is due to the escalating costs across various industries involved in settling a claim; legal fees, loss adjuster expenses, and even individuals' wages have all seen significant hikes, making it crucial to secure adequate coverage.

✓ We recommend £5m in Public Liability cover

Employers Liability Insurance

Employers' Liability Insurance is slightly different in that it protects you against claims from employees, or volunteers, who make a claim against you for an injury or illness caused by the work they do for you. Employers' Liability Insurance is a legal requirement if you employ one or more people.

✓ We recommend £10m in Employers Liability cover

Trustee Indemnity & Professional Indemnity Insurance

Trustee Indemnity Insurance

Anyone considering taking up the role of a charity trustee must be aware of their legal duties, responsibilities and potential liability. It helps protect both individual trustees and the charity itself from the financial and legal consequences of claims or disputes related to the actions or decisions of trustees.

As a charity, it's not always easy to figure out how much Trustee Indemnity insurance you need. WRS can offer £100,000 to £10 million, for both past and present trustees. We understand the specific challenges you face as a charity and can help you find the perfect balance between protecting your trustees and your organisation, all while keeping costs down.

Professional Indemnity Insurance

Charities often provide professional services, advice, or consultancy to their beneficiaries, donors, or other stakeholders. If these services lead to financial losses or harm, the charity could be legally liable. Professional Indemnity Insurance helps protect the organisation from legal claims and the associated costs, including legal fees, settlements, or judgments.

There are varying levels of Professional Indemnity Insurance depending on the scope of activities or services provided, and their associated risks. Our experienced team can assist you in determining the right level of cover, which typically ranges from £100,000 to £10 million.

Business Interruption Insurance & Material Damage

Business Interruption Insurance

Business Interruption Insurance serves as a vital form of protection against unanticipated disruptions for charities, businesses and other organisations. This type of insurance will cover a range of insured events such as fire, flood and theft. It's there to financially protect your charity against loss of income and increased cost of working.

What is an indemnity period?

It defines how long insurers will make payments to cover interruptions. Some insurers offer a standard 12-month indemnity period, however, this may be insufficient in the current climate due to the increased cost of building materials and the difficulty in sourcing tradespeople. To safeguard against extended disruptions, it is advisable to consider at least a 24-month indemnity period.

Planning for extended disruptions is the key to safeguarding your charitable efforts.

Material Damage

It's important to note that in order for a Business Interruption claim to be successful, there must be a legitimate claim of material damage first. This means that business owners need to make sure that they have adequate buildings and contents insurance in place. It is possible to obtain both policies from the same insurer, or from different ones – the former may make the process easier to manage, but ultimately, the most important factor is that the policies are in place.

A material damage proviso is a standard component found in every Business Interruption policy. Its primary purpose is to ensure that necessary repairs or replacements for damaged buildings can be financed, enabling the business to resume its operations promptly. This ensures that the business can get back on track before the insurance company settles the claim and mitigates any financial losses that occurred during the indemnity period. This also includes stock and items away from the premises.

? If you are unsure of your building's sum insured, we can help. We're pleased to partner with Rebuild Cost Assessment, in which they can provide you with an online desktop property valuation. Take a look at our Rebuild Cost Assessment blog for further information.

Legal Expenses

Legal expenses

Whether it's defending against legal disputes, addressing regulatory compliance concerns, or handling contractual matters, this type of insurance can offer peace of mind by covering the expenses associated with legal representation and related expenses.

Typical cover could include:

- ✓ Employment Disputes & Compensation Awards
- ✓ Statutory Licence Appeal
- ✓ Property Protection
- ✓ Legal Defence
- ✓ Contract Disputes
- ✓ Personal Injury
- ✓ Debt Recovery
- ✓ Tax Protection

These covers would be subject to the policy sold. Legal Expenses can be purchased as a package or we can source stand-alone quotations for this cover.

Cyber Insurance

Cyber security can seem an overwhelmingly complex area, with threats continually evolving and becoming more sophisticated. Cyber security isn't just the responsibility of the IT department.

Most cyber breaches occur as a result of phishing emails sent to employees, so every employee and volunteer is effectively on the front line.

A specialist cyber insurance policy can help give you the expert support you need if the worst happens. It won't just cover your financial losses, it will also give you access to cyber security experts who can help to recover your systems and help you understand what caused the breach, so you're protected in the future.

It can also provide you with access to legal support.

Motor & Fleet Insurance

A full array of vehicles can be covered, including minibuses, pool cars as part of a fleet, refrigerated vehicles, 3.5T vans and 7.5T vans.

Fleets start from two vehicles and can be a mix of cars and other vehicle types, such as vans used to collect and deliver donated goods.

Modifications can also be included – such as tail-lifts, seat removals, and sign-written vehicles. We can also assist with risk management advice, if needed.

The Value of Specialist Brokers in Charity Insurance Claims

By choosing a specialist Charity Insurance broker you can help alleviate some of the stress involved in the event of a claim.

Emma Jeffrey, Senior Claims Executive, has worked at WRS for over 22 years and explains below just what difference this can make:

Making a claim for your charity can be a really daunting task. By choosing to use a specialist Charity Insurance broker, you're guaranteed to have someone on your side, like myself, to guide you from the initial call through to claims settlement. Part of my role is ensuring claims are logged promptly, updates are provided regularly, and all parties involved are managed to ensure a smooth and hassle-free claims resolution.

At WRS, we take a really proactive role in our client's claims, I'm on hand to answer any questions, provide guidance and talk through any concerns you may have for your charity insurance claim.
